

Public questionnaire for the 2019 Evaluation of the Research & Development and Specialisation Block Exemption Regulations

Fields marked with * are mandatory.

Introduction

Background and aim of the public questionnaire

Article 101(1) of the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union ('the Treaty') prohibits agreements between undertakings that restrict competition unless they generate efficiencies in line with Article 101(3) of the Treaty. Agreements generate efficiencies in line with Article 101(3) of the Treaty if they contribute to improving the production or distribution of goods or services, or to promoting technical or economic progress, while allowing consumers a fair share of the resulting benefits; they only impose restrictions that are indispensable for the attainment of these objectives and do not eliminate competition in respect of a substantial part of the product in question. The prohibition contained in Article 101(1) of the Treaty covers, amongst others, agreements entered into between actual or potential competitors (so-called 'horizontal agreements').

Commission Regulations (EU) No 1217/2010 (Research & Development Block Exemption Regulation - 'R&D BER') and 1218/2010 (Specialisation Block Exemption Regulation - 'Specialisation BER'), together referred to as the 'Horizontal block exemption regulations' (or 'HBERs'), exempt from the prohibition contained in Article 101(1) of the Treaty those R&D and specialisation agreements for which it can be assumed with sufficient certainty that they satisfy the conditions of Article 101(3) of the Treaty. The Commission Guidelines on horizontal cooperation agreements ('HGL') provide binding guidance on the Commission for the interpretation of the HBERs and for the application of Article 101 of the Treaty to other horizontal agreements. The HBERs will expire on 31 December 2022.

This public questionnaire represents one of the methods of information gathering in the evaluation of the HBERs, together with the HGL, which was launched on 5 September 2019. The purpose of this questionnaire is to collect views and evidence from the public and stakeholders on how the current rules work for them. The Commission will evaluate the current HBERs, together with the HGL, based on the following criteria:

- Effectiveness (Have the objectives been met?),
- Efficiency (Were the costs involved proportionate to the benefits?),
- Relevance (Do the objectives still match current needs or problems?),
- Coherence (Does the policy complement other actions or are there contradictions?), and
- EU added value (Did EU action provide clear added value?).

The collected information will provide part of the evidence base for determining whether the Commission should let the HBERs lapse, prolong their duration without changing them or prolong them in a revised form, together with the accompanying HGL.

The responses to this public consultation will be analysed and the summary of the main points and conclusions will be made public on the Commission's central public consultations page. Please note that your replies will also become public as a whole, see below under Section 'Privacy and Confidentiality'.

Nothing in this questionnaire may be interpreted as stating an official position of the Commission.

Submission of your contribution

You are invited to reply to this public consultation by answering the questionnaire online. To facilitate the analysis of your replies, we would kindly ask you to keep your answers concise and to the point. You may include documents and URLs for relevant online content in your replies.

While the questionnaire contains several questions of a more general nature, notably Section 4 and 5 also contain questions that are aimed at respondents with more specialised knowledge of the HBERs and HGL. We invite all respondents to provide answers to the questionnaire. In case a question does not apply to you or you do not know the answer, please choose the field 'Do not know' or 'Not applicable'.

For your information, you have the option of saving your questionnaire as a 'draft' and finalising your response later. In order to do this you have to click on 'Save as Draft' and save the new link that you will receive from the EUSurvey tool on your computer. Please note that without this new link you will not be able to access the draft again.

The questionnaire is available in English, French and German. You may however respond in any EU language.

In case of questions, you can contact us via the following functional mailbox: COMP-HBERS-REVIEW@ec.europa.eu.

In case of technical problem, please contact the Commission's CENTRAL HELPDESK.

Duration of the consultation

The consultation on this questionnaire will be open for 14 weeks, from 6/11/2019 to 12/2/2020.

Privacy and confidentiality

 1.1 Publication privacy settings

The Commission will publish the responses to this public consultation. You can choose whether you would like your details to be made public or to remain anonymous.

Anonymous

Only your type of respondent, country of origin and contribution will be published. All other personal details (name, organisation name and size, transparency register number) will not be published.

☐ Public

Your personal details (name, organisation name and size, transparency register number, country of origin) will be published with your contribution.

Please note that your replies and any attachments you may submit will be published in their entirety even if you chose 'Anonymous'. Therefore, please remove from your contribution any information that you will not want to be published.

4 Effectiveness (Have the objectives of the current HBERs and HGL been met?)

In this section, we would like to have your opinion on the extent to which the HBERs and the HGL have met their objectives.

The purpose of the EU competition rules is to ensure that competition is not distorted to the detriment of the public interest, individual undertakings and consumers. In line with this objective, the Commission's policy is to leave companies maximum flexibility when concluding horizontal co-operation agreements in order to increase the competitiveness of the European economy while at the same time promoting competition for the benefit of European businesses and consumers.

The purpose of the HBERs and the HGL is to make it easier for undertakings to cooperate in ways which are economically desirable and without adverse effect from the point of view of competition policy. The specific objectives of the HBERs and HGL are to ensure effective protection of competition and providing adequate legal certainty for undertakings.

* 4.1 In your view, do you perceive that the HBERs and the HGL have contributed to promoting competition in the EU?

- ☐ Yes
- ☒ Yes, but they have contributed only to a certain extent or only in specific sectors
- ☐ They were neutral
- ☐ No, they have negatively affected competition in the EU
- ☐ Don't know

* 4.2 Please explain your reply, distinguishing between sectors where relevant: (1500 characters max).

Text of 1 to 1500 characters will be accepted

The R&D BER is likely to have contributed to promoting competition but the conditions are easier to apply and/or more relevant in some sectors than others. For example, the 7 year limit under the BER is generally too short in some sectors where the costs involved in R&D are very high and cannot be recovered over such a timeframe.

The HGL are helpful in clarifying that agreements may fall outside the scope of Article 101(1) where the R&D is at an early stage and far removed from possible exploitation of the results. This point is likely to encourage pro-competitive cooperation.

Legal certainty provided by the HBERs and the HGL

* 4.3 In your view, have the R&D BER and Section 3 of the HGL on research and development agreements provided sufficient legal certainty on R&D agreements companies can conclude without the risk of infringing competition law?

- ☐ Yes
- ☒ No
- ☐ Do not know

* 4.4 Please explain your reply

Text of 1 to 1500 characters will be accepted

As explained in response to specific questions below, certain provisions in the R&D BER could be clarified to further improve legal certainty in this area.

* 4.5 In your view, does the R&D BER increase legal certainty compared with a situation where the R&D BER would not exist but only the HGL applied?

- ☒ Yes
- ☐ No
- ☐ Do not know

* 4.6 Please explain your reply

Text of 1 to 1500 characters will be accepted

The R&D BER would increase legal certainty in some scenarios where the conditions are easy to apply to the facts, and therefore its existence is beneficial as compared to a situation where it did not exist. However, its impact is limited in other cases where it is more difficult to apply and therefore it is more relevant to consult the HGL and use that guidance instead.

* 4.7 In your view, have the Specialisation BER and Section 4 of the HGL on production agreements provided sufficient legal certainty on production /specialisation agreements companies can conclude without the risk of infringing competition law?

- ☒ Yes
- ☐ No
- ☐ Do not know

* 4.8 Please explain your reply

Text of 1 to 1500 characters will be accepted

The Specialisation BER is generally clear and more straightforward to apply than the R&D BER.

* 4.9 In your view, does the Specialisation BER increase legal certainty compared with a situation where the Specialisation BER would not exist but only the HGL applied?

- ☒ Yes
- ☐ No
- ☐ Do not know

* 4.10 Please explain your reply

Text of 1 to 1500 characters will be accepted

As above, the Specialisation BER is generally clear and straightforward to apply.

In this section we would like to have your opinion on the extent to which the HGL have provided sufficient legal certainty on horizontal cooperation agreements companies can undertake without the risk of infringing competition law. Please specify your answer according to the different types of horizontal agreements.

* 4.11 In your view, have the HGL provided sufficient legal certainty on agreements involving information exchange in the sense of Section 2 of the HGL?

- ☒ Yes
- ☐ No
- ☐ Do not know

* 4.12 Please explain your reply

Text of 1 to 1500 characters will be accepted

We understand that the guidance on information exchange reflects the existing case law on this topic.

* 4.13 In your view, have the HGL provided sufficient legal certainty on purchasing agreements in the sense of Section 5 of the HGL?

- ☐ Yes
- ☐ No
- ☒ Do not know

* 4.15 In your view, have the HGL provided sufficient legal certainty on commercialisation agreements in the sense of Section 6 of the HGL

- ☐ Yes
- ☐ No
- ☒ Do not know

* 4.17 In your view, have the HGL provided sufficient legal certainty on standardisation agreements in the sense of Section 7 of the HGL

- ☐ Yes
- ☐ No
- ☒ Do not know

* 4.19 In your view, have the HGL provided sufficient legal certainty on other types of horizontal cooperation agreements that are currently not specifically addressed in the HGL (for example sustainability agreements)

- ☐ Yes

- ☒ No
- ☐ Do not know

* 4.20 Please explain your reply

Text of 1 to 1500 characters will be accepted

Horizontal cooperation agreements in relation to sustainability issues are becoming increasingly important in the context of current climate change goals. It would increase legal certainty in terms of what is permissible in this area if specific guidance on these kinds of agreements was set out in the HGL.

* 4.21 In your view, are there other types of horizontal cooperation agreements outside those identified in the current HGL that should have been specifically addressed in order to increase legal certainty?

- ☒ Yes
- ☐ No
- ☐ Do not know

* 4.22 If Yes, please list those types of agreements and explain your reasons

Text of 1 to 3000 characters will be accepted

As above, cooperation agreements in relation to sustainability issues are becoming increasingly important. Specifically addressing these in the HGL would increase legal certainty and potentially encourage more pro-competitive cooperation in this area, which would contribute towards the EU's current policy objectives such as the European Green Deal.

Identification of pro-competitive horizontal agreements

The R&D BER and the Specialisation BER set out a number of conditions that R&D and specialisation agreements need to meet in order to benefit from the block exemption. The HGL provide additional guidance on how to interpret these conditions. These conditions have been defined with the purpose to give exemption only to those agreements for which it can be assumed with sufficient certainty that they generate efficiencies that outweigh, in line with Article 101(3) of the Treaty, the harm caused by the restriction of competition.

Based on your experience, have the following provisions in the R&D BER allowed to correctly identify the horizontal cooperation agreements that are compliant with Article 101 of the Treaty?

* 4.23 The list of definitions that apply for R&D agreements that can benefit from exemption in Article 1 of the R&D BER

- ☐ Yes
- ☒ No
- ☐ Do not know

* 4.24 If No, please explain what aspect of this provision fails to correctly identify R&D agreements that are compliant with Article 101 of the Treaty

Text of 1 to 1500 characters will be accepted

Some of the definitions are unclear, in particular the meaning of "joint". In Article 1(m)(i) and (ii), it could be made clearer that this applies to the exploitation-related activities as well as the R&D activities. In Article 1(n) and (o), it is inconsistent whether "specialisation" requires both parties to be involved in the relevant activities, which is potentially confusing. Although this can be understood and applied in a given scenario, it is necessary to remind yourself of these minor inconsistencies each time a question arises on the R&D BER which slows down its application (particularly in comparison to other BERs that are more internally consistent and therefore quicker to apply).

- * 4.25 The conditions for exemption listed in Article 3 of the R&D BER, regarding, for instance, access to the final results of the R&D, access to pre-existing know-how and joint exploitation.

- ☐ Yes
☒ No
☐ Do not know

- * 4.26 If No, please explain what aspect of these conditions fails to correctly identify R&D agreements that are compliant with Article 101 of the Treaty

Text of 1 to 1500 characters will be accepted

The condition relating to access to background IP can be difficult to interpret and apply in practice; it is not always clear to what extent a party must give access to background IP.

The condition in Article 3(5) is unclear, particularly the scope of the second exception to this condition. It would also be helpful to explain the rationale for particular issues being "conditions for exemption" in Article 3 as opposed to an "excluded restriction" under Article 6.

- * 4.27 The absence of a market share threshold for non-competing undertakings, the market share threshold of 25% for competing undertakings and the application thereof provided for in Articles 4 and 7 of the R&D BER

- ☐ Yes
☒ No
☐ Do not know

- * 4.28 If No, please explain what aspect of these provisions fails to correctly identify R&D agreements that are compliant with Article 101 of the Treaty

Text of 1 to 1500 characters will be accepted

The market share threshold can be difficult to apply, given the difficulties in identifying the relevant markets. This is particularly the case for technology and innovation markets.

- * 4.29 The limits regarding the duration of the exemption provided for in Article 4

- ☒ Yes
☐ No
☐ Do not know

4.31 The list identified in Article 5 of the R&D BER which make the exemption not available for agreements that have as their object certain restrictions or limitations ('hardcore restrictions')

- ☒ Yes
- ☐ No
- ☐ Do not know

* 4.33 The list of obligations included in agreements to which the exemption does not apply ('excluded restrictions'), identified in Article 6 of the R&D BER

- ☒ Yes
- ☐ No
- ☐ Do not know

Based on your experience, have the following provisions in the Specialisation BER allowed to correctly identify the horizontal cooperation agreements that are compliant with Article 101 of the Treaty?

* 4.35 The definitions that apply for the purposes of the Specialisation BER, in Article 1

- ☒ Yes
- ☐ No
- ☐ Do not know

* 4.37 The explanations on the type of specialisation agreements to which the exemption applies, provided by Article 2 of the Specialisation BER

- ☒ Yes
- ☐ No
- ☐ Do not know

* 4.39 The market share threshold of 20% and its application, provided for in Articles 3 and 5 of the Specialisation BER

- ☒ Yes
- ☐ No
- ☐ Do not know

* 4.41 The list identified in Article 4 of the Specialisation BER which make the exemption not available for agreements that have as their object price fixing, certain limitations of output or sales or market or customer allocation ('hardcore restrictions')

- ☒ Yes
- ☐ No
- ☐ Do not know

4.43 Based on your experience, are there other elements, besides those listed in the previous questions that should have been clarified, added, or removed to improve the guidance given by the BERs?

Text of 1 to 3000 characters will be accepted

N/A

* 4.44 Based on your experience, are there other types of horizontal cooperation agreements outside those identified in the R&D and Specialisation BERs which would satisfy the conditions of Article 101(3) of the Treaty?

- ☐ Yes
☐ No
☒ Do not know

* 4.46 Based on your experience, have the BERs and the HGL had any impacts that were not expected or not intended?

- ☐ Yes
☒ No
☐ Do not know

5 Efficiency (were the costs involved proportionate to the benefits?)

In this section, we would like to have your view concerning the efficiency of the HBERs and the HGL. In your view, do you consider that the costs (for example, legal fees, delays in implementation) of analysing the conditions and applying these instruments is proportionate to the benefits (for example, faster self assessment) of having the rules in place?

Costs

* 5.1 Please describe the different types of costs of applying the current R&D and Specialisation BERs; and the HGL

Text of 1 to 1500 characters will be accepted

Costs include delays in implementation while assessing compliance with the BERs or individual assessment under the HGL; this will also incur internal costs of legal advice from company lawyers.
As noted above (question 4.24), in our experience, the R&D BER is less internally coherent than other BERs and includes a number of relatively small inconsistencies. It is therefore slower to apply, even for specialist competition lawyers, than (for example) the VABER.

5.2 Please explain whether you can express the above costs in money terms

Text of 1 to 1000 characters will be accepted

Unable to quantify

5.3 Please provide an estimate of your quantifiable costs both in terms of value (in EUR) and as a percentage of your annual turnover (or, in the case of a business association, of the annual turnover of the members you are representing)

Text of 1 to 500 characters will be accepted

N/A (as above, unable to quantify)

5.4 Please explain how you calculate these costs

Text of 1 to 1500 characters will be accepted

N/A (as above, unable to quantify)

- * 5.5 In your view, how have the costs generated by the application of the R&D or the Specialisation BER or the HGL evolved compared with the previous legislative framework (Reg. 2659/2000 on R&D, Reg. 2658/2000 on Specialisation agreements and the accompanying horizontal guidelines)?

- ☐ Costs increased
- ☒ Costs decreased
- ☐ Do not know

* 5.6 Please explain your reply

Text of 1 to 1500 characters will be accepted

The current legislative framework is easier to apply compared to the previous legislative framework so the costs have decreased.

5.7 Please provide an estimate of the possible change in costs and explain your estimation

Text of 1 to 1500 characters will be accepted

N/A (as above, unable to quantify)

In your view, would the costs of ensuring compliance of your horizontal cooperation agreements (or the agreements of your members) with Article 101 of the Treaty would be different if the current HBERs were not in place but only the HGL applied?

- * 5.8 Were the R&D BER not in place, the cost of ensuring compliance
- ☒ Would increase

- ☐ Would decrease
- ☐ Do not know

* 5.9 Please explain your reply

Text of 1 to 1500 characters will be accepted

As above (question 4.6), there are some cases where the R&D BER is easy to apply; without the BER, the costs of ensuring compliance would therefore increase. However, the effect would be limited as in many cases, the BER is slower and more complicated to apply (and the HGL are more useful and relevant) - the negative impact of not having the BER would therefore be smaller in those cases.

5.10 Please provide an estimate of the possible change in costs and explain your estimation

The costs would increase more than in the absence of the R&D BER (where the benefit is more limited - see above) as the current Specialisation BER is easier to apply and therefore provides greater benefits in terms of reducing the cost of assessing compliance.

Benefits

* 5.14 Please describe the benefits, if any, of having the R&D and Specialisation BERs; and the HGL

Text of 1 to 1500 characters will be accepted

As above, in principle, the BERs and HGL give guidance which encourages companies to enter into pro-competitive collaborations. In some cases, compliance can be assessed relatively quickly internally and therefore it avoids the need to seek external legal advice (or go through a hypothetical regulatory approval process, if this was an alternative to having the legislation and guidance in place). However, these benefits could be further strengthened if certain provisions of the R&D BER were further clarified to allow for more efficient internal assessment.

Benefits vs. costs

In your view, does the application of the R&D and Specialisation BERs and the HGL generate costs that are proportionate to the benefits they bring (or, in the case of a business association, the benefits for the members you are representing)?

The HGL provides useful guidance which is more efficient than reviewing precedent case law and enforcement practice.

6 Relevance (do the objectives still match the needs or problems?)

In this section, we would like to understand if the objectives of the HBERs and the HGL are still up-to-date considering the developments that have taken place since their publication.

6.1 Please identify major trends and developments (for example legal, economic, political) that, based on your experience, have affected the application of the BERs and HGL. Please provide a short explanation with concrete examples in case you consider that (parts of) the HBERs or HGL do not sufficiently allow to address them

	Major trends/changes	Articles of the HBERs and/or recitals of the HGL	Short explanation/concrete examples
1	Increased focus on climate change objectives and therefore cooperation in relation to sustainability projects	The current HGL do not specifically address sustainability agreements (see above at questions 4.20 and 4.22).

Do you think that it is still relevant to have the current HBERs and HGL in light of major trends or developments listed above?

It is still relevant to include guidance on standardisation agreements in the HGL as standardisation remains an important topic, particularly in the context of data and technology.

7 Coherence (Does the policy complement other actions or are there contradictions?)

* 7.1 In your view, are the HBERs and the HGL coherent with other instruments and /or case law that provide(s) guidance on the interpretation of Article 101 of the Treaty (e.g., other Block Exemption Regulations, the Vertical Guidelines and the Article 101(3) Guidelines)?

8 EU added value (Did EU action provide clear added value?)

In this section, we would like to understand if the HBERs and the HGL have had added value. In the absence of the HBERs and the HGL, undertakings would have had to self-assess their horizontal cooperation agreement with the help of the remaining legal framework. This would include for instance the case law of the EU and national courts, the Article 101(3) Guidelines, the enforcement practice of the Commission and national competition authorities, as well as other guidance at EU and national level.

Please indicate whether, in your view, the HBERs and the HGL have had added value in the assessment of the compatibility of horizontal cooperation agreements with Article 101 of the Treaty

Despite certain limitations, the existence of the BERs and the HGL is beneficial compared to the alternative of having to individually assess each agreement based on case law and enforcement practice.
