On behalf of the municipality of Midden-Delfland, I would like to take the opportunity to provide a view in the context of the consultation round regarding the revision of the de minimis regulation for agriculture.

A significant extension of the de minimis threshold is very necessary, for the following reasons:

- the threshold had not been adjusted for inflation for years.
- Member States (or governments) will have more opportunities to support farmers faster and more efficiently. It benefits the flexibility of processes.
- the revision reduces the regulatory burden for farmers.
- In these times when significant transitions are expected from the agricultural sector with more social goals, it is extra important for the government to provide rapid, short-term support to facilitate and promote this transition. There are many pilot projects in which forms of sustainable agriculture are developed and/or demonstrated. With an increased de minimis threshold, these can be carried out more efficiently and the (paid) participation of farmers is facilitated.

In the municipality of Midden-Delfland we have been very active for more than 20 years in supporting the agriculture of Midden-Delfland in their role as guardian of the landscape of Midden-Delfland. www.middenindelfland.net
We notice that a threshold that is too low limits the necessary implementation of the desired transition. We propose to equate the de minimis threshold with the ceiling that applies to small and medium-sized businesses in the Netherlands.

Met vriendelijke groet, kind regards

Kees Boks
